

The Ekstroms

March 6, 2013

My Home Contracting:

OUR HOUSE HAS A NEW LEASE ON LIFE! We loved it for its "inner self" (and its 30 years of memories), but we didn't realize how "tired" its exterior was becoming.

We knew when Al came to re-measure the windows that we were in good hands: professional, personable and competent. How could we go wrong? Al's installation skills more than lived up to our expectations and we enjoyed having him in our home.

Then came Andy and his alter-ego, Jeff. If there is a better working duo in the siding industry, I would be surprised! Their pride of workmanship is so evident... and appreciated.

As positive as this all sounds, I've saved the best for last. We loved Don when we met him at the Manchester Home Show (we had been "attacked" by one too many vendors already). And everything went UP after that: the promise to call; the initial appointment arrangements; the appraisal/quotation phase; the contractual details; and, most importantly, the scheduling - all were impeccably as promised! Our home awaits your final "white glove" inspection, Don!

We can't thank you enough.

Carol & Ed