Good afternoon guys!

Just wanted to shoot you a quick referral note, as discussed. We're still so happy with the work, everyone that passes by makes a comment to us about how lovely the house looks. Our only complaint is that now our old front porch looks terrible, LOL! -We'll have to look into a makeover for the front stoop next year :)

Here is our referral note for posting on your site:

If you're looking for an honest, professional and quality company to work with, I can sincerely recommend My Home Contracting.

My husband and I recently resided our home with MHC, which was in dire need of a makeover. Our home was painted cedar shake shingle, which was peeling, dirty and had so many years of paint on it that we were hesitant to repaint it yet again.

We were introduced to MHC by our neighbors, who had used them for windows, gutters, siding and a new roof. We were impressed with their work, and even more impressed that our neighbor (who is in construction himself) highly recommended them.

After reviewing our neighbor's home and the excellent work MHC had done, we knew that we would be using them too.

Don (the owner of the company) was extremely professional throughout the entire process. We were hesitant and just inexperienced in this type of home-renovation project and Don was patient, honest and a true pleasure to work with.

We never once had any issue that wasn't addressed immediately, and we were relieved that all of our questions were answered with expertise and professionalism.

Bottom line: If we'd known that there was a company out there that we could trust like MHC, we would have had brought them in years ago. They did an excellent job on our home, we are thrilled with the results and our home looks better than ever.

Thank you MHC! -Mr. & Mrs. Stamides
